

A.R.M. Ltd

Environmental Policy

A.R.M Ltd., based Rugeley, Staffordshire, are involved in the design, construction, consultancy, construction and servicing of water treatment and related systems and supply of engineering products. We are committed to complying with legislation and any obligatory requirements, we will strive to prevent pollution and will continue to reduce the impacts of our business on the environment. For the period January 2004 to December 2006 we have agreed the following objectives covering both our Rugeley H.Q and our various construction sites.

- To segregate and recycle our wastes at Rugeley.
- To ensure all sites are left litter free and better visually than when we arrived
- To improve the storage of oils, chemicals and liquids stored on site, to reduce the risk of pollution
- To identify a means of recycling our spoil from construction sites/reed beds.

Management programs have been set for these Objectives. This policy, with its objectives will be reviewed at the end of each year and in line with changes in legislation and will be updated were required. This policy is available on demand to any person or body that requires a copy.
